Featured Employee - Nick Nieffenegger

Nick Nieffenegger has been with SWS for 15 years and is a person of many talents. Nick has worked as Inside Sales Coordinator, Logistics Coordinator and is now Warranty Administrator and Parts Agent. Where there is a need at SWS, Nick steps up and fills it. Over the last 15 years Nick has attended multiple classes in order to advance his knowledge and career. He came to SWS from the US Army as a Parts and Logistic Specialist. When coming to SWS he had very little experience in the refuse industry but that didn't intimidate him from jumping right in and becoming successful. Nick grew up in Newberg, Oregon and as a kid wanted to become a doctor or astronaut, two very different careers. He moved to Spokane, WA about 27 years ago and has two awesome boys, 13 and 10. Nick spends most of his time away from work with his boys; camping, gold prospecting and just enjoying the Northwest outdoors. Nick also loves crafting beer and wine. Three things that no one at SWS knew about Nick; he was a paratrooper in the army, he loves to cook and likes to watch documentaries when falling asleep. When asked what he likes most about being part of the SWS team, he replied, "The working atmosphere. It is like we are a real family. Each employee truly cares for their co-workers. We do activities together outside of work. From riding the bicycle trolleys down town to serving the homeless at the UGM. I also like the business philosophy at SWS. Especially the focus on our customers. I've never worked in an environment where this is stressed and practiced to such a high degree. SWS has grown a lot during my tenure here. There are always new challenges to tackle. I look forward to the next 15 years!" Nick's dedication to SWS shows every day through the hard work he puts in. SWS is grateful to have such a great person as part of the team.

Roll-Off Trucks Get The Job Done

When it comes to the collection of bulk items and large amounts of material, an SWS supplied Container Roll-Off truck gets the job done. Roll-off hoists are used in many industries including refuse, recycling, debris collection and equipment transportation. SWS supplies Chain and Cable roll-off hoists to maximize the amount of material you move down the road. In addition to servicing open-top containers, these hoists can easily handle refuse compactors. When selecting a roll-off hoist it is important to understand what length of container you want to haul, what materials will be loaded into the containers, and if that container will need to be covered with a tarp. Chassis requirements are also very important in order to ensure the engine HP and Torque is adequate for your application. With roll-off trucks, typically you want to get as much load weight onto the front axle. Sizing the front and rear axles' GVWR to meet your heaviest load will ensure safe and legal travel.

SWS supplies the Northwest with the innovative Advantage Endless Chain hoist and the Stellar cable roll-off hoist. AA Welding's Advantage Endless Chain Hoist is a roll-off that won't disappoint. It's the hoist of choice in the Northwest. Endless chain offers power off and power on loading and unloading. Offloading containers or compactors is easy when utilizing the off-load feature, which hydraulically pushes the unit off exactly where you want it. The robust 200 ASA chain and gears will handle any job the roll-off encounters. The heavy-duty hook carriage rollers and the hydraulically cushioned hoist down function is just a couple features that make this roll-off stand out.

Stellar cable roll-off hoists are the premium cable systems on the market. Known for quality and durability, the cable is routed in a single direction of rotation and does not switch directions. This gives a longer life for the cables. The simple cylinder reeving design is exclusive to Stellar. It relieves maintenance headaches and garners the same performance as a two-cylinder reeving system.

If a roll-off hoist is in your future, please check out our website or call;
